

CHOCOLATE WITHOUT ANY BITTER AFTERTASTE – FROM COCOA TO A CAREFREE SNACK

INVITATION: Public lecture held by Friedel Hütz-Adams

Friday 18 November 2011
Campus Limpertsberg
Room BS 1.03
From 16.30 to 18.00

Most people love chocolate.
Half of the worldwide chocolate production is consumed by Europeans who eat 1,5 million tons a year – which is equivalent to 15 billions of chocolate bars.

However, eating chocolate is not as harmless as we might think - especially not for the children in Africa.

In cooperation with TransFair-Minka asbl and the University of Luxembourg

Friedel Hütz-Adams is an acknowledged expert in the complicated subject matter of the cocoa-market and the editor of the study „Human rights in the cultivation of cocoa“.

This lecture consists of an oral presentation – with a main emphasis on „Fair Trade: Characteristics, chances and risks“- and a following debate.

We would be pleased to welcome you to this lecture and debate!
